Very nearly, if the romance be grown in a soil of sense. Is this wife a mother? She has three pretty children. Ah, then she is happy in them? Yes; but happy mothers are not always happy wives. Are there such women? Plenty of them, and because there are there should be more. Mistakes must occur. Yes. They should serve as danger signals. Don't they? Do they? Look around upon the wreckage and see. Are the women to blame? If the women would not the men could not. Will it ever be different? Yes, in heaven, where there is no marrying or giving in marriage. Do you believe that? We must; it is inspired truth; it was not uttered until marriage had been tried a long time, and it had been quite conclusively shown that heaven, as a reward of merit to mankind, would prove ineffectual unless such a proviso were adopted. So? So as Gospel. And yet aren't women angels? Poets say so, but not of their wives. And isn't love the greatest thing in the world? Yes—a mother's love.

SHAKESPEARE'S EARNINGS.

Mr. Vicent, at Chautauqua, Says He Made $9000 a Year.

CHAUTAUQUA, N. Y., July 25—(Special).—Leon H. Vincent gave a delightful treatment of a well-worn subject in his lecture to-day on William Shakespeare.

Speaking of the cottage at Stratford he said: "There is not enough left to-day to become sentimental about. It occupies the same hole in space; a few timbers and the cellar are genuine antiques, but all else is of to-day."

He said that Shakespeare in his best days earned $800 to $9000 a year, a record which few literary men of to-day surpass. "He was a very practical man, and at the very time he was composing that most ethereal piece of fancy, 'The Tempest,' he was carrying on a law suit with a neighbor in Stratford for £2 15."

The Bacon-Shakespeare craze he spoke of as "a popular mania that must have its day. People forget that Delia Bacon formed her theory before Halliwell Phillips, and that a flood of light has been thrown upon the subject since." He quoted R. G. White as saying that the Bacon-Shakespeare madness was "a literary bee in the bonnets of certain ladies of both sexes." The lecture was sympathetic in interpretation and written in a polished literary style.

Mrs. Emily M. Bishop, the exponent of Delsarte training, gave a talk before the Women's Club on "Physical Culture at Home." She said that walking up stairs is one of the best forms of exercise known. Mr. J. V. Flagler gave a lecture recital entitled "Words and Pictures of the Great Composers," playing illustrative selections from Bach, Mozart, Beethoven and Mendelssohn. It was a rare musical event.

Other features of the day's program were a lecture by Dr. Ely on "Competition As Affecting Trade," the first of a series on "Preachers and Preaching" by Dr. Herrick Johnson of Chicago, and an illustrated lecture on "Ancient Rome and the Caesars" by Mr. Percy M. Reese of Baltimore.

Gackwar, Begum, and Nawab.

They are coming, Uncle Samuel, from India's distant shores. These rattle-dazzle potentates—they're coming by the score.

Your fame has reached those far-off lands, your praise's now they sing. And every dusky ruler thinks your country just the thing.

They leave their native jungles, where the tiger has his lair. And they all have checked their baggage for the great Chicago Fair. The Gackwar of Baroda and his Highness of Mysore—They are coming, Uncle Samuel, with the Sultan of Johore.

The Nizam of Hyderabad, the Begum of Bhopal, And several bigger Hindu swells—they're coming one and all.

From several other Indian towns the crowd will larger grow—There's Azimgarh, and Bagapur, and Yellagode, you know! Dambod will send a delegate, and so will Kovilam.

Jellalabad and Rajpur, and even Sasseram; While Bijapur can't be left out, still less can Coildalore.

They're coming, Uncle Samuel, too, from festive Jubahpore.

The Nawab of Burwannagar, another mighty man. Will hasten here from a Kumba Jong and Dera Fatti Khan.

Bahadurgarh joins Chengalpatt, Dum Dum and Kurrachee, And Chanderpoor and Chittagong not far behind we see.

These, with the host from Baddowal and bonny Balasore, Are coming, Uncle Samuel, five thousand strong or more.

Fishing With a Drug.

The drug used by the Chinese in catching fish is coculus indicus, which is powdered and mixed with dough and scattered broadcast over the water after the manner of sowing seed. The fish seize and devour it with avidity and instantly become intoxicated and turn up by hundreds on the top of the water. They are then gathered up and placed in vessels containing clear water.

The Safe Deposit Vault.

The new safe or vault for the Safe Deposit Company is expected to arrive on the Discovery. The safe is in sections and will be put together here. Each one of its double doors weighs more than any safe in any business office in the city.

Aim at the Drake

And you are bound to hit some of the ducks. This is precisely the same with

Wampole's Tasteless Preparation

OF

Cod Liver Oil.

It aims to cure Consumption, Hits the Mark, too, and it most effectually breaks up Colds, Coughs, Hoarseness and all Throat and Lung troubles that cause this disease.

It is natural logic to conclude that if WAMPOLE'S PREPARATION OF COD LIVER OIL has power to prevent Consumption, it surely is able to cure these lesser emergencies.

This vigor-making, fat producing preparation is Absolutely Tasteless, in so far as Cod Liver Oil is concerned. All you notice is a delightful flavor of Wild Cherry and Anise.

But the purest Norwegian Cod Liver Oil is there all the same. It is a great blood enricher. Best of all it is a natural food that in its stomachic effects, actually assists its own assimilation.

In Pulmonary or Bronchial troubles it is unequalled. No one doubts the value of Cod Liver Oil, but not every one is able to take it.

WAMPOLE'S PREPARATION

removes the nauseous objection and actually makes Cod Liver Oil palatable.

In making up an order, see that it includes a subscription for yours and for one or more relatives or friends abroad to "THE FRIEND," the oldest paper published in the Pacific, Rev. S. E. Bishop, Editor; published monthly, at $2 per annum, devoted to the religious and educational interests of these islands, as also a record of political and other current events. Sample copies mailed to any address. A limited number of advertisements inserted at reasonable rates.

The Hawaiian Annual now in its Nineteenth year, and acknowledged not only as the best authority on all information pertaining to the islands that residents should know and strangers invariably ask, but the only reference book of Hawaiian statistics, and annual recorder of current and remnant events. There are homes probably in this land in which it is unknown, except by name, and there are numerous friends abroad to whom this publication would afford untold satisfaction for the fund of reliable information it imparts in its one hundred and fifty or more pages, with nothing of the "Guide Book" gush about it. Price per copy to any address in these islands, 75 cents; or mailed to any address in the Postal Union for 85 cents each.
